Unidentified Man Attempts To Kill Premier of Japan As Latter Is Returning Home From Reception In His Automobile

MACHINE IS WRECKED BY TWO EXPLOSIONS

Road Is Badly Torn Up By Force of Combustion But Neither Statesman Nor His Chauffeur Is Injured—Assailant Escapes

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) TOKIO, January 13.—A desperate attempt to assassinate Count Okuma, premier of Japan, was made by an unidentified man early yesterday morning, two bombs being thrown at the aged statesman's automobile. Both bombs exploded but neither had been thrown accurately and the Premier escaped unhurt.

Count Okuma was returning from the Imperial Palace, where he had attended the reception given by the Mikado to Prince Michaelovitch, the special envoy of the Czar, who is in Tokyo on an extraordinary diplomatic mission.

Assassin Lies In Wait
It was about one o'clock in the morning when the machine with the premier arrived at Wasoda, close to the premier's private residence, where the attempted assassination took place.

The would-be assassin, who had evidently been lying in wait for the return of the premier, stepped from the shade of a wall as the automobile neared him, then threw the two bombs in quick succession. Without waiting to see whether his aim had been true or not, the bomb-thrower ran and disappeared. The Czar's machine was wrecked and the road was torn up by the force of the double explosion, but neither the Czar nor his chauffeur was in any way injured.

No Motive For Attack
The police are at a loss to know from what motive the attempt to kill the premier arose, there being at the present time no political crisis to induce the attempt upon Count Okuma's life. No clue to the would-be assassin is obtainable and no arrests have been made.

This is the second time Count Okuma has been the target for a bomb thrower. In 1888, in almost the same place where his life was attempted yesterday, an attempt to kill him was made. At that time, while he was entering his gate in a ricksha, a bomb was thrown at him, wounding him severely and necessitating the amputation of his leg. That attempted assassination arose over Count Okuma's action as foreign minister, when he revised the foreign treaties. His acquiescence in the change allowing the appointment of foreigners on the supreme court bench aroused popular feeling, the attempt to kill him being the result.

(Special Cablegram to Hawaii Ship.) The city was as festive to greet the Russian ambassador, while the extraordinary attention was shown him of the Emperor being in person at the railroad station to meet him.

At the official reception given him at the Imperial Palace, the Russian envoy made a notable address, stating that the good will shown to the Czar and the people of Russia through the good will shown to him by the Emperor, the officials and the people will hereafter be a bond holding Japan and Russia in perpetual friendship.

Japan and Russia will hereafter walk hand in hand together for the best good of the Far East," he said.

TEUTONIC INVASION OF GREECE BEGINS

Bulgars and Germans Reported To Have Crossed Border In Dorian Zone

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 13.—Reports that reach here from Salonika indicate that the Teutonic invasion of Greece has been launched. The despatches from the front state that the Bulgarians, with German auxiliaries have crossed the border in the Dorian zone, advancing south along the Vardar Valley against the French positions.

Details of the magnitude of the advance and the progress of the fighting are lacking.

A Reuter dispatch from Athens last night states that the French are landing troops on the Greek island of Corfu, in the Ionian Sea at the southern extremity of Albania. Yesterday there were fourteen ships of unknown nationality, in the vicinity of Corfu, leading to the impression that the Italians are also landing troops there with the purpose of establishing a base for a campaign against the Teutons through Southern Albania along the Greek border.

The Austrian campaign against the Montenegrins in the Sanjak is proceeding, according to Vienna reports, which state that the Austrians are now occupying Njegu.

LIFE SENTENCE IS GIVEN TO SCHMIDT

Stay Granted To Give Time To Perfect Appeal To Supreme Court

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LOS ANGELES, January 13.—Imprisonment at hard labor for life was the sentence passed yesterday upon Matthew A. Schmidt, convicted of murder in the first degree for his share in the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building, when a number of men and women lost their lives. Schmidt was shown to have secured the dynamite and made the bombs with which the McNamara brothers blew up the building.

A stay of sentence until January 24 has been granted in order to permit the preparation of appeal for a new trial. When asked yesterday whether he had any statement to make before the sentence of the court should be passed, Schmidt declared that he was innocent of the charges made against him and had nothing whatever to do with the McNamara or the conspiracy to destroy the Times office. He stated that he regretted deeply the deaths that had occurred as a result of the blowing up of the printing office.

ALLIES SORE PUT IN BALKANS, IS REPORT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 12.—That the Austrian advances into Montenegro offer serious prospects for the success of the Allies in the Balkans is the situation as it appears today based on recent news from that area of war. The reports that the Austrians have occupied Mount Lovcen in Montenegro is believed now to be true. Uneasiness is felt among the Entente Powers over this situation, as the summit of this stronghold dominates Cattaro Bay, where the Austrian naval base is being developed.

A successful blow by the Teutons in the heart of the Montenegrin country might isolate the Allied troops now defending the northeastern frontier.

Discharged Soldier Slays Divorcee Who Rejected His Suit and Her Mother

MORTALLY WOUNDS SISTER OF DESIRED SWEETHEART

Then Floyd Peyser Finishes Tragedy In San Francisco By Committing Suicide

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) SAN FRANCISCO, January 13.—Because his love was spurned and his intentions slighted, Floyd Peyser, a recently discharged United States soldier, ran amuck in the family of his wished-for sweetheart. When the affair ended three persons were dead, including Peyser, and one other was fatally wounded.

Peyser loved and attempted to woo a fair San Francisco divorcee, Mrs. Marjorie Hill. She refused to accept him as a suitor and rejected his advances, the final rejection so angering Peyser that he secured a six-shooter and returned to the home of Mrs. Hill, who lived with her mother, Mrs. G. W. Evans.

His ring at the door brought Mrs. Evans to answer the bell and he fired at her, pointblank, killing her instantly. Stepping over her dead body, Peyser then shot and killed the woman who had refused him.

Her sister, Mrs. Irene White, was next made the target for his gun, one bullet dropping her with a wound from which she is not expected to recover.

Having thus wiped out the family, Peyser turned his gun against himself, blowing out his brains, his body falling in the hallway with those of the three women.

MILITARY SERVICE BILL WILL BE LAW

Asquith Measure Passes In Commons On Second Reading By Large Majority

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 13.—Following the defeat of a motion by William Anderson, that the house of commons reject the Military Service Bill of the government, which motion was lost by a division of 431 votes to thirty-nine votes, the bill was passed on second reading without a division and its passage is now assured. Only the extreme radicals voted against the government on the rejection motion, many labor representatives supporting it.

Following the second reading of the compulsory service measure, the house yesterday went into conference with Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, David Lloyd George, minister of munitions; Arthur Balfour, first lord of the admiralty, and other cabinet ministers. The ministerial crisis appears to have been safely passed. The resignations of Arthur Henderson, president of the board of education; William Bruce, under secretary of the home office, and George Roberts, junior lord of the treasury, were withdrawn. All these represent the labor party in the ministry.

TRAGIC SEARCH FOR GOLD ENDED

Captain Owens, With Baby Son, Back From Panama After Selling Schooner

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) SAN FRANCISCO, January 13.—Captain Thomas Owens, with his baby son, arrived here from Panama yesterday, after having disposed of his power schooner Academy, aboard of which he started in June last from this port on a gold hunting expedition to Terra del Fuego.

When the Academy sailed, Captain Owens was accompanied by his wife and son and a crew of nine men. Yellow fever, which came aboard the craft at Buena Ventura, killed Mrs. Owens and four members of the crew and left one other sailor insane.

The Academy was outfitted for a year's work in Southern Chile when she left California. The placer mines which were to be worked had been discovered on a beach by Captain Owens when he was shipwrecked there six years ago.

On the way south Captain Owens had trouble with the members of his crew and was forced to put into Buena Ventura, Colombia. Then arose difficulties with the British consul Newcastle, the British consular officials and the Colombian authorities, which forced virtual abandonment of the venture. While at Buena Ventura, yellow fever broke out among the crew and there were a number of fatalities on board, among those succumbing to the disease being the Captain's wife.

STORM DOES GREAT DAMAGE ON KAUAI

Kealia Breakwater and Warehouse Destroyed and Other Landing Places Wrecked

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.) LIHUE, January 11.—Wind and rain storms of great violence have been beating upon Kauai since Friday of last week and only ceased early Monday morning. The storms have come spasmodically, torrential rains lasting for several minutes coming at frequent intervals with a high wind of great strength continuing steadily.

The danger was greatest about the shoreline, where high seas caused much serious damage.

The destruction of the Kealia breakwater and warehouse was the most serious result of the storm. This was one of the best and most recent landing on Kauai and the hoisting apparatus was of excellent quality. It extended several hundred feet into the ocean and thus received the most severe action of the waves. The entire structure was completely carried away and the warehouse with the material in it was almost demolished.

The landing at Nawiliwili is in a precarious state, as practically all of the cement piles have been loosened and several of them were completely washed away. Great holes were torn from under the road near the landing and at one point the road caved in, leaving a dangerous place several feet in diameter. A number of small houses along the beach were completely undamaged, but some were destroyed. The private landing of the beach home of G. N. Wilcox of Lihue, was washed away.

The Ahukini landing could not be located, so deep was it submerged, and railroad tracks, trucks, cranes, and all manner of debris were completely carried out to sea, the waves washing up the banks for almost a hundred feet.

The side roads leading to Ahukini have been in an almost impassable state since the storm began.

The bridge separating Niihau from Lihue was totally destroyed, the I. H. Coney residence and other homes being completely isolated. Wailua, Haleiwa and Haleakala received a large amount of the storm's energy and the entire range of its activities extended from Hanalei to Koloa. The main roads are all in good shape again, but the small roads will be of little use for some time yet.

Over a foot of rain has fallen since the Christmas storm in the eastern part of the island, and the rains are worse than any in the history of the past ten years.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) EL PASO, January 13.—As the details of the assassination of American miners by Mexicans led by a prominent Villista commander are becoming known and the bloodthirsty and cruel nature of the deed is appreciated, public wrath is increasing and insistent demands for action on the part of the United States are being voiced.
